PART 2 - FLEXIBILITY

2.1 Enterprise flexibility

2.1.1 As part of a process of improvement in productivity and efficiency, discussion should take place at each enterprise to provide more flexible working arrangements, improvement in the quality of working life, enhancement of skills, training and job satisfaction and to encourage consultative mechanisms across the workplace.

2.1.2 The consultative processes established in an enterprise in accordance with clause 2.1 may provide an appropriate mechanism for consideration of matters relevant to clause 2.1. Union delegates at the place of work may be involved in such discussions.

2.1.3 Any proposed genuine agreement reached between an employer and employee/s in any enterprise is contingent upon the agreement being submitted to the Commission in accordance with Chapter 6 of the Act and is to have no force or effect until approval is given.

PART 3 - COMMUNICATION, CONSULTATION AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION

3.1 Consultation

- 3.1.1 The parties to this Award are committed to co-operating positively to increase the efficiency, productivity and competitiveness of the industries covered by this Award and to enhance the career opportunities and job security of employees in such industries.
- 3.1.2 At each plant or enterprise, an employer, the employees and their relevant industrial organisation or industrial organisations commit themselves to establishing a consultative mechanism and procedures appropriate to the size, structure and needs of that plant or enterprise. Measures raised by the employer, employees or the Union for consideration consistent with the objectives of clause 3.1.1 shall be processed through that consultative mechanism and procedures.

3.2 Grievance and dispute settling procedures

The matters to be dealt with in this procedure shall include all grievances or disputes between an employee and an employer in respect to any industrial matter and all other matters that the parties agree on and are specified herein. Such procedures shall apply to a single employee or to any number of employees.

- 3.2.1 In the event of an employee having a grievance or dispute the employee shall in the first instance attempt to resolve the matter with the immediate supervisor, who shall respond to such request as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances. Where the dispute concerns alleged actions of the immediate supervisor the employee/s may bypass this level in the procedure.
- 3.2.2 If the grievance or dispute is not resolved under clause 3.2.1, the employee or the employee's representative may refer the matter to the next higher level of management for discussion. Such discussion should, if possible, take place within 24 hours after the request by the employee or the employee's representative.
- 3.2.3 If the grievance involves allegations of unlawful discrimination by a supervisor the employee may commence the grievance resolution process by reporting the allegations to the next level of management beyond that of the supervisor concerned. If there is no level of management beyond that involved in the allegation the employee may proceed directly to the process outlined at clause 3.2.5.
- 3.2.4 If the grievance or dispute is still unresolved after discussions mentioned in clause 3.2.2, the matter shall, in the case of a member of a Union, be reported to the relevant officer of that Union and the senior management of the employer or the employer's nominated industrial representative. An employee who is not a member of the Union may report the grievance or dispute to senior management or the nominated industrial representative. This should occur as soon as it is evident that discussions under clause 3.2.2 will not result in resolution of the dispute.
- 3.2.5 If, after discussion between the parties, or their nominees mentioned in clause 3.2.4, the dispute remains unresolved after the parties have genuinely attempted to achieve a settlement thereof, then notification of the existence of the dispute is to be given to the Commission in accordance with the provisions of the Act.
- 3.2.6 Whilst all of the above procedure is being followed, normal work shall continue except in the case of a genuine safety issue.
- 3.2.7 The status quo existing before the emergence of the grievance or dispute is to continue whilst the above procedure is being followed.
- 3.2.8 All parties to the dispute shall give due consideration to matters raised or any suggestion or recommendation made by the Commission with a view to the prompt settlement of the dispute.
- 3.2.9 Any Order or Decision of the Commission (subject to the parties' right of appeal under the Act) will be final and binding on all parties to the dispute.
- 3.2.10 Discussions at any stage of the procedure shall not be unreasonably delayed by any party, subject to acceptance that some matters may be of such complexity or importance that it may take a reasonable period of time for the appropriate response to be made. If genuine discussions are unreasonably delayed or hindered, it shall be open to any party to give notification of the dispute in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

- (b) The consultation shall take place as soon as it is practicable after the employer has made a decision, which will invoke the provisions of clause 4.10.1(a) and shall cover the reasons for the proposed terminations, measures to avoid or minimise the terminations and/or their adverse effects on the employees concerned.

- (c) The amounts must be worked out on the basis of:
 - (i) the ordinary working hours to be worked by the employee; and
 - (ii) the amounts payable to the employee for the hours including for example, allowances, loadings and penalties; and
 - (iii) any other amounts payable under the employee's employment contract.

4.10.3 Transmission of business

- (a) Where a business is, whether before or after the date of insertion of this clause in the Award transmitted from an employer (transmittor) to another employer (transmittee), and an employee who at the time of such transmission was an employee of the transmittor of the business, becomes an employee of the transmittee:
- (i) the continuity of the employment of the employee shall be deemed not to have been broken by reason of such transmission; and
 - (ii) the period of employment which the employee has had with the transmittor or any prior transmittor shall be deemed to be service of the employee with the transmittee.
- (b) In clause 4.10.3, 'business' includes trade, process, business or occupation and includes a part or subsidiary (which means a corporation that would be taken to be a subsidiary under the Corporations Law, whether or not the Corporations Law applies in the particular case) of any such business and 'transmission' includes transfer, conveyance, assignment or succession whether by agreement or by operation of law and 'transmitted' has a corresponding meaning.

4.10.4 Time off during notice period

- (b) If the employee has been allowed paid leave for more than one day during the notice period for the purpose of seeking other employment, the employee shall, at the request of the employer, be required to produce proof of attendance at an interview or the employee shall not receive payment for the time absent. For this purpose a statutory declaration will be sufficient.

4.10.5 Notice to Centrelink

Where a decision has been made to terminate employees in the circumstances outlined in clause 4.10.1, the employer shall notify Centrelink as soon as possible giving all relevant information about the proposed terminations, including a written statement of the reasons for the terminations, the number and categories of the employees likely to be affected, the number of workers normally employed and the period over which the terminations are intended to be carried out.

4.10.8 Employee leaving during notice

An employee whose employment is terminated for reasons set out in clause 4.10.1(a), may terminate such employment during the period of notice, and, if so, shall be entitled to the same benefits and payments under this clause had such employee remained with the employer until the expiry of such notice:

Provided that in such circumstances the employee shall not be entitled to payment in lieu of notice.

4.10.9 Alternative employment

4.10.10 Employees with less than one year's service

Clause 4.10 shall not apply to employees with less than one year's continuous service and the general obligation on employers should be no more than to give relevant employees an indication of the impending redundancy at the first reasonable opportunity, and to take such steps as may be reasonable to facilitate the obtaining by the employees of suitable alternative employment.

4.10.13 Exemption where transmission of business

 - (i) where the employee accepts employment with the transmittee which recognises the period of continuous service which the employee had with the transmittor, and any prior transmittor, to be continuous service of the employee with the transmittee; or
 - (ii) where the employee rejects an offer of employment with the transmittee:
 - (A) in which the terms and conditions are substantially similar and no less favourable, considered on an overall basis, than the terms and conditions applicable to the employee at the time of ceasing employment with the transmittor; and

4.11 Continuity of service - transfer of calling

In cases where a transfer of calling occurs, continuity of service should be determined in accordance with sections 67-71 of the Act.

PART 5 - WAGES AND WAGE RELATED MATTERS

5.1 Career path progression and classification criteria

5.1.1 Career path progression

The objective of clause 5.1 is to establish a generic framework of wages and conditions for new and existing employees based on the recognition of relevant industry skills and experience, responsibility and/or possession of qualifications.

Implicit in career path progression is the existence of a suitable vacancy to which the employee can be appointed or successfully apply for promotion and that progression is based on work performance rather than tenure.

As a matter of principle, the employer is committed to promotion on the basis of merit that is consistent with equal employment opportunity and affirmative action requirements.

Professional development is not compulsory and will be undertaken in either the employee's or employer's time depending on the circumstances. This is to promote a culture of learning in line with the employer's commitment to training that may utilise nationally accredited qualifications. Specific in-house training programmes that are compulsory, for example, Induction Training, Food Hygiene and Handling for Kitchen Attendants and Supervisors, and training for Supervisors would be undertaken in the employer's time.

To progress to a higher classification level, an employee must be able to demonstrate a competent level of work performance for that classification level. Award classification levels may also be supplemented by employer performance management programmes outlined in Staff Induction Manuals, Staff Handbooks or other like documents that shall be adhered to at all times.

5.1.2 Classification criteria

- (a) The employer shall determine an employee's classification relevant to a particular Wage Level in the Award through the following process:
 - (i) an analysis is to be undertaken to establish the requisite skills and responsibilities for each identified position and a position description written for each position;
 - (ii) each position is classified by reference to the classification criteria in accordance with clause 5.1.3 to this Award; and
 - (iii) employees are notified in writing of their appointment to a position consistent with the requirements outlined in clause 4.1 to this Award.

- (b) Classification criteria as outlined in clause 5.1.3 are guidelines to determine the appropriate classification level under the Award and consist of:
 - (i) relativities for each Wage Level;
 - (ii) broad industry titles/callings, common industry-used titles and/or historical Award classifications (i.e. a Translation Guide that refers to Award classification titles across a number of hospitality awards);
 - (iii) indicative duties that represent where the majority of the employees duties are located (i.e. it is not mandatory that an employee performs every duty in a Wage Level and where it is acknowledged that some duties are only relevant for certain sectors of the hospitality industry);
 - (iv) indicative experience and/or qualifications; and
 - (v) indicative levels of responsibility.

- (c) The characteristics nominated above are the principal guide to classification to a particular Wage Level as they are designed to indicate the level of basic knowledge, comprehension of issues, problem and procedures required, the level of autonomy, accountability supervision/training involved with the position.
- (d) The characteristics of a Wage Level must be read as a whole to gain an understanding of the position and the performance requirement. Isolated characteristics should not be used to justify the classification of a position. The key issue to be analysed in properly classifying an employee is the level of initiative, responsibility/accountability, competency and skill that an employee is required to exercise in performing the employee's work within the parameters of the characteristics of the position.
- (e) The attributes and skills for each Wage Level are indicative of those required for each Wage Level. They are by no means an exhaustive list of the skills, attributes, duties or tasks included in each position within each Wage Level and employees may be expected to carry out additional duties or tasks as requested, which require skills that are not listed.
- (f) It should be noted that some typical duties/skills appear at one Wage Level only while others appear at more than one Wage Level. Because of this, the classification or re-classification of a position needs to be done by reference to the specific characteristics of the Wage Level. As an example, because an employee may be utilising a skill comprehended at a higher Wage Level than that which the employee has been appointed, the employee assumes the level of qualification, initiative, accountability and competence envisaged by the characteristics of the higher Wage Level irrespective of whether the employee holds formal qualifications specified for that higher Wage Level.
- (g) Payment for skills required in a particular position and used on a regular basis and not skills/qualifications possessed in an acknowledgement that some employees are over-qualified for the position they will be engaged in.
- (h) All employees will be required, in addition to their own task, to carry out tasks and responsibilities of employees at lower Wage Levels. All employees are required to observe the relevant legislative requirements as it applies to their position, for example the Liquor Act 1992 and the Gaming Machine Act 1991 (and the employer's interpretation of the Acts that may be outlined in the employer's policy and procedure manuals). The ability to provide excellent customer service, where the customer may be external or internal, underpins all Wage Levels.
- (i) Where it is established that a particular set of tasks or callings are not clearly classified in this Award, the parties to the Award will meet to discuss the appropriate Wage Level and pay rates. Any dispute arising from this shall be followed in accordance with clause 3.1.

Shortage of Work, Redundancy, Unsatisfactory Performance/Conduct, Conversion to Permanent Employment Any other reason - List Below

Note 1: Weekly employees may work at different Wage Levels under the two or more classes of work concept and casuals may also be engaged on work at various Wage Levels requiring different skills, responsibilities and rates of pay.

Note 2: It is accepted that for full-time employees, hours of work may change according to a roster or by mutual agreement and for part-time and for casual employees in particular, work may be on an "as required basis" in which case the starting and ceasing times or hours of work could vary. Where the starting and ceasing times or hours of work could vary, it is acceptable to simply state "could vary as required, or by agreement".

Note 3: This information is a guide only, referring to the Wage Level or rate of pay that a casual employee was to receive at the time of the first engagement. It is accepted that rates of pay will vary if employees are engaged on different levels of work. There is no need to issue a casual with a separate employment contract every time their level of work (and possibly rate of pay) changes as required.

Note 4: If you are a casual employee you will be provided as much notice as possible if your employment is terminated provided that your employment may be terminated with the provision of one hour's notice or pay in lieu.

SCHEDULE B - Application for Casual Conversion to Permanent

- (a) (i) This schedule only applies to a regular casual employee.
- (ii) A regular casual employee means a casual employee who is employed by an employer on a regular and systematic basis for several periods of employment or on a regular and systematic basis for an ongoing period of employment during a period of at least twelve months.
- (b) A regular casual employee who has been engaged by a particular employer for at least twelve months, may elect (subject to the provisions of this Schedule) to have his or her contract of employment converted to full-time or regular part-time employment.
- (i) An employee who has averaged at least 38 hours per week over an agreed work cycle in the period of twelve months' casual employment may elect to have his or her employment converted to full-time employment.
- (ii) An employee who has averaged less than 38 hours per week over an agreed work cycle in the period of twelve months' casual employment may elect to have his or her employment converted to regular part-time employment as provided in clause 4.2.
- (iii) Where a regular casual employee seeks to convert to full-time or regular part-time employment, the employer may consent to the application, or may refuse the application, but only on reasonable grounds. In considering a request, the employer may have regard to any of the following factors:
- the size and needs of the workplace or enterprise;
 - the nature of the work the employee has been doing;
 - the qualifications, skills, and training of the employee;
 - the trading patterns of the workplace or enterprise (including cyclical and seasonal trading demand factors);
 - the employee's personal circumstances, including any family responsibilities; and
 - any other relevant matter.
- (c) Where it is agreed that a regular casual employee will have his or her employment converted to full-time or regular part-time employment as provided for in Schedule B, the employer and employee must discuss and agree upon:
- (i) to which form of employment the employee will convert - that is, full-time or regular part-time employment; and
- (ii) if it is agreed that the employee will become a regular part-time employee, the matters referred to in clause 4.2 of this Award.
- (d) Despite clause 4.2.4 of this Award, where a regular casual employee is engaged for a two hour minimum shift pursuant to clause 4.3.4 of this Award, the employer and employee may agree that the employee will convert to regular part-time employment as provided for in this schedule for a minimum of two consecutive hours on any shift. However, nothing in this clause requires an employer to convert a casual employee working two hour shifts to regular part time employment

- (e) The date from which the conversion will take effect is the commencement of the next pay cycle following such agreement being reached unless otherwise agreed.
- (f) Once a regular casual employee has converted to full-time or regular part-time employment, the employee may only revert to casual employment with the written agreement of the employer.
- (g) An employee must not be engaged and/or re-engaged (which includes a refusal to re-engage) to avoid any obligation under this Award.
- (h) Nothing in Schedule B obliges a casual employee to convert to full-time or regular part-time employment, nor permits an employer to require a casual employee to so convert.
- (i) Nothing in Schedule B requires an employer to convert the employment of a regular casual employee to full-time or regular part-time employment if the employee has not worked for twelve months in a particular establishment in a particular classification stream.
- (j) Nothing in Schedule B requires an employer to increase the hours of a regular casual employee seeking conversion to full-time or regular part-time employment.
- (k) Any dispute about a refusal of an election to convert a contract of employment or about the matters referred to in clause (b) of Schedule B must be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of clause 3.2 - Grievance and dispute settling procedure.
- (l) Eligible employees who convert their employment under the provisions of Schedule B may do so from 1 July 2005. Service with the same employer prior to 1 July 2005 will be taken into account for the purposes of any such election. Any dispute arising about the application of this Schedule B between the date of this amendment and 1 July 2005 may be referred to the Commission for resolution.
